Internal Auditor's Report

OBJECTIVES

The Auditor-Controller Internal Audit Division conducted an audit of the Orange County Probation Department's (Probation) books and accounts relating to receipts, disbursements, and case file management of juvenile cases for the purpose of evaluating the adequacy and effectiveness of internal control and processes to ensure management is accomplishing its business goals and objectives in accordance with WIC Section 275(b).

BACKGROUND

As a public safety agency, Probation serves the community using efficient and research-supported corrections practices to: reduce crime, assist the courts in managing offenders, promote lawful and productive lifestyles, and assist victims. Probation is headed by the Chief Probation Officer and employs approximately 1,300 individuals. The department also utilizes the services of volunteers who play a very important role in helping to reduce crime. Probation officers actively supervise approximately 14,000 adult and juvenile offenders. Probation operates Orange County Juvenile Hall, and three camps for juvenile offenders.

Probation has the fiduciary responsibility for a variety of monies, including monies for fines, fees, penalty assessments, restitution to victims, and charges for services provided. Probation maintains funds used for the collection and disbursement of monies. Probation also administers a number of federal and state grant programs.

SCOPE AND METHODOLOGY

Our audit focused on Probation's internal control and processes over receipts and disbursements and was limited to the two fiscal years ended June 30, 2017. WIC Section 275(b) requires an audit of the books and accounts relating to juvenile cases only; therefore, we limited our audit to include juvenile cases and related issues. Our methodology included inquiry, observation and testing of pertinent documentation for the purpose of assessing the adequacy and effectiveness of Probation's internal control and processes. Our audit did not include a review of information systems or system controls used in the process.

CONCLUSION

Based on our audit, Probation's internal control over its books and accounts relating to receipts, disbursements and case file management of juvenile cases are adequate and effective to ensure management's goals and objectives are accomplished in accordance with WIC Section 275(b). No reportable issues were noted during the performance of the audit.
